The following is a brief summary of the Rieur

In the various ligal conflicts relating to the Paients above mentioned, volumes of testimet; have been taken and some of the best legal talent in the country there were employed in opposition to the Company, but siter a contest of over two years, it was decided by the Buyrean Court of the United States that Oo Roberts was the first to discover the practicability and invent the means of increasing the capacity of oil wells in the oil bearing rock by exploding Torpedoes therein. That since the organization of eald Company, in or der to protect their rights, it has been deemed necessary to commence stills acquired by the confidence.

sary to commence suits against several persons, among Kent & Moliner, (operators,) and remate & Parke, (manufacturers) That during the trial of said several cases, the pretended claim of William Road and others in relation to being the discoverers and first to apply Torpedors in oil wells, was fully investigated, and not withstanding the said netended claim of Recei and others, indignest was obtained in the United States (New Authority). Court against the several parties defendants in sai suits, and permanent injunctions issued against all of them. And in order further to protect the interests of said Company, suits have been commenced in the United States Court and injunctions obtained against Direct practic court and injurious source segment. Factorick T Munson, of R no, Vensigo county, Pa, and George W VanVilet, of Pithole, in said counts And in addition to the above suits, in which injunction have already been obtained, in order to protect the test rights and interests of said Company, a suit has been enced against Sherman Camp, of Rouseville, and commenced against therman Camp, of Rouse-Ille, not proceedings instituted against the Reed Torpedo Company, of Reno, Pa., William Reed, William Phillips Balph Pettibone and J. B. Hiubbs, officers of said Reed Torpedo Company, their agents and employees and all other persons known to have purchased Torpedos of thom, or any of them. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

At the commencement of business this morning the define was much stronger, and at 1 on holders had obtained an udvaries of five tenta from yesterday's closing quotation. At Petrologin Contro and points between that place and Oil City, buyers were freely offering 31 to during the morning, and in the afternoon the offering price advanced to $3.55. At Piencer and points north, of that place, the forces generally offered were $3.35 and $2.35. Although the prices were improved at nearly all beauting 5 of there was not as much scrivity as olight, have been satirlipated, on account of their being some thing of a scarsity at the well. The following were the sales made delivered, $500 barrels at Pércoleum Cuntre, for the Pittsburgh market at $4.50; 500 barrels at Titus At the commencement of business this morning for the Pittsburgh market at 42 50; 500 barrels at Titus ville, at $3.50, 500 barrels at Miller from Upper Cherry Rus, for the New York market, at $3.25, 500 Larrels at Petroleum Contre, for the Pittsburgh market, at $3.5, at the Consultation of Petroleum Contre, for the Cloveland market, at $3.50, 1,000 barrels at Fetroleum Centre, in two lots of 500 barrels such for the Pittsburgh market, at $3.55. At the clove buyers were offering $3.55 at Petroleum Centre, and $3.30 at, points worth of that place, and achieve were firm at an advance of from the let see cents from these fagures. At Oil of from five to ten cents from these figures. At its there was some excitement and sales were effect a $3 90 for 42 gailons, in bulk boats. In the morning sule of 1,000 barrels was made at $3.90 on broad gauge cars. We quote at the close at $6.00 on broad gauge cars with but the sellors. The fitter has raison so much as to be in good boating order, and the dramand of to day was mithly to cover contracts, that were made for fitte burgh dollvery on this water. The better tone which the market exhibited to-day was occasioned by a large demand to cover the contracts mentioned above 2

The Decoration of Soldiers' Graves Impressive Demonstration,

The custom of decorating with flowers the graves of soldiers who fell in the service of their country during the recent war, was duly inangu rated in Titusville on Saturday under the cusp Army of the Republic. The demonstration, how ever, bad no partisan character. The preliminary meeting for the arrangement of a programme was altogether informal, and after agreeing upon pointing Marshals to conduct the procession. adjourned without further action. standing the incompleteness of the arrangements the demonstration was of an imposing character, and as a patriotic tribute to the heroes of the war, seemed to callst the universal as months of the

A heavy rain fell during the previous night, and the clouds were dark and threatening thre? out the day Added to this discouragement, th trotting advertised at the Driving Park attracted many spectators, and the services of the Band, which otherwise would have esported the procesalon, were required at the races. In spite of fioral memorial service in honor of the marture of the war was to be the significant event of the day. On all the business streets streamers and flags were displayed in great abundance, and the ciosing of factories, offices and stores, and the suspension of business, was almost universally

At 21/4 o'clock the pupils of the Holdlers' Or direction of Capt, Carter as Marshal and Capts eron, Assistants, and attended by Merry and Cam teachers and preceded by drum and fife took up the line of march. The Firemen wer out in goodly force, though the notice was brief and united with the procession on Spring street Soldlers and citizens followed, extending the lin as it advanced, and rapidly augmenting its num bers. The firle g of campon algoritzed the stars procession, and was continued at five minute intervals till the exercises were concluded t the grounds. The church and school tells vere tolled during the same period. Passing through Spring to Washington,thene astward, and arriving at the grounds of the Union School, the procession parted midway to dmit the pupils of that institution, who wer out in considerable force. Thence the procession moved through Main street to the Chase cemete ry, halting in three columns by division, facing to the front, uncovered, while a delegation of pu companied by the clergy, entered the enclosure og decorated the grave of Capt. C S Chase.

The line was then reformed, and counter marched through Main to Frankliu street, and thence to the public cemetery. The grounds were already well covered with spectators, comned largely of ludies. The procession entered and moving to the castern side was formed into a hollow source around the graves of Cipt. D P. Sigler and Private Cornelius Sigler, which with that of Private David S Weed are the only soldiers' graves in the enclosure. Although un marked by wood or stone, the mounds had been raised and tastefully sodded the day previous. There were between eight hundred and thousand people within the cemetery, awaiting in impressive silence the commencement of th exercises. The Morshal first announced the Roll Call of the Dead, which included the names of all soldiers from Titueville and vicinity who had perished in battle or by disease. The roll was read by Col. Keese.

 Address by Col. P. Davidson. ADDRESS COMBADES AND FRIENDS:—You have come to gather upon no ordinary occasion, neither are they ordinary motives that have brought you bither; but the higher and nobler impulses of other; out the nigher and nobler impalses of your natures, to do honor to the memory of the noble and gullant dead. You have come to this place where dust has been committed to dust, ashes to ashes, and earth to earth, to pay the tribute of the heart to the sell sacrificing devotion of those who fell spen our country's common altar in the holy cause of liberty, and in the interests of all mankind. You have come together to perpetuate the glorious memory of all who wear the martyr's crown—to keep in lively remembrance the principles for which they nobly struggled and the cause in which they more nobly fell—to pay in part the debt to their memory, that you owe to them.

the same evidences of affectionate remembrance that you have brought and to day laid apon these few graves, as tokens of your grathude, will be laid by gentle hands upon bundreds, thousands, and tens of thousauds of other graves. This is a day of offerings, and I trust that many a heart my be softened under their graphs in flavored.

From one end of our land to the other, the people are going up to the congregations of the dead, the cometeries, the church-yards, and even where the lone solder sleeps his last sleep, are even to the treuches of the battle-field, where even to the trendenes of the bathe-held, where the dead rest touching each other, side by side in averlasting ellence, even here, angel women, first in every good and heautiful work, are engaged in adorning these homes of the unknown sleepers; under their inspiring hands the desert may be made to blossom as the rose and the ghastly and rugged battle field may be taught to smile.

There be some, when the sun shall have set, who will have no flower planted in the turf that covers them, but for whom the scalding tear will have fallen, though it be far away. It is said to hid adou to catth at home, among triends and kindred, but to die upon the battle field and perhaps he left alone while the crimson tide is last chibing, with more to place a knapsack or a stone for a pillion under the head of the dying sufferer, none to give him a draught of water to queuel his parching thirst, none to suminister a word of comfort or consolation in this most trying hour, none to berr his dying messages of love to the detr ones at home, none to receive his latest breath, is frequently the more time and lot of many of those and forth to meet our country's fee. And here let me say that so long as our people shall rally round one patriot deed, to protect and to honor their memories with the enthusiasm of true engagemess, so long may we be assured that the lambont fames of a pure and foreent patriotism burns like incense upon the siter of every heart, so long may we be assured of our country's destiny. No matter how turbid and coubled the political waters—"all's well."

But who are these that sleep so near us—they fell not upon the field of strift—do we honor them—they were true soldlers, they give their all to their country—though they came home to die among their kindred in the hosoms of their fom-ties. Cleveland — Its Auractions — Petroleum Trade—Refineries—&c., &c. CLEVELAND, O., May 20, 1868, ditors Marning Herald:

Leaving Titusville, a few hours ride over the Atlantic & Great Western Railway through one of the finest farming countries in the world; brings you to Cleveland, the fairest city of the akes, and the pride of Northern Ohlo, if not of the entire " Buckeye State." It has been justly amed the Forest City—from its shaded avenues and parks-and in summer is a formidable rivel shade" prettier; and while speaking of the city, we cannot omit to mention the delightful drives over the Nicholson pavements, with which it is blessed. New York with its Harlem Lane does not surpass Cleveland or Encid stenue, where may be seen at all hours, equipages and turn outs unrivalled by those of the wealthlest cities of the East-where you may drive for miles over a road smooth as a parlor floor, amid the refreshing breeze from the cool waters of the lake, and on either hand a constantly unfolding panorams of beauty and ever changing scene of elegant residences, threer gardens, fountains, shrubbery and green lawns, that render this city to attractive, and give one faint glumpses of the other Eden from which our that parents were

But Cleveland is not celebrated alone for its architectural heauty nor handsome streets. Bc eides its immense commerce, it is unrivilled by may of the etties located upon the great lakes, as a manufacturing point. With its from and coal trade, ship building, paper mills, chemical man-ufactories, immense lumber trade, marble and stone works, besides the hundred other branches of manufacture, it is no wonder that the city is making great strides towards prosperity and realizing the wealth which the energy and enter prising apirit of her citizens deserves.

THE MANUFACTURE OF REPINED PETROLEUM. has increased from a small local trade, and half foremost branches of business, and recent sta tistics show that as refluing point. Cleveland ex ceeds Pittsburgh in the manufacture of this important Article of commerce

Over sixty different firms comprising many of the wealthlest and largest business establish ments of the city are engaged in the oil business either as refiners, shippers or dealers in both rude and refined petroleum. Among the largest refluing establishment of the city are those of Rocketeller, Andrews & Flaght, Reynolds, Bishop & Co., Clark, Payne & Co., Clark, Shuemer, & Co , Hussey, McBride & Co., while there are full a score of others scarcely behind these as regards capital invested, and amount of oil consumed. I am Indebted to Col. James Pickands for a copy of Board of Trade Report for 1867, from which the following statistics were obtained.

"In the annual statement, for 1865 was report ed 220,000 barrols of crude Petroleum received and 154,090 harrels of relibed oil manufac

In the report of 1800 there were over six hun ome four hundred thousand barrels refined were from all sources were nearly 750,000 barrels, and robably about 500,000 barrels of Refined Oil unnula ciured. It is not possible to ascertaln and specify the exact amount of cithe. The large refiners are now provided with immense reservoirs for storing both grade and refined oils intil they are wanted for munufacture or for The great bulk of crude oil is now lought from the Oil Regions to our refinerita n tank, two of which are placed upon one platform car. This mode of transport tion is a decided mrovement on the old way of shipping in barrels Phase Links are e limited to contain 82 harrels car, and the oil is transferred to the reser-ons of the large relineries, or this parties for the use of amounts with By decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, refined petroleum is not taxed until drawn from the reservoirs for sale or shipment. There is always, at the beginning and close of the year, more or less of both crude and reflued on hand in bulk The estimate of manufactured oil has been made manufacturers and of inspectors, and from the taxes, with special solicitude to avoid an over statement. The taxes paid on refined petroleum for 1867, were one million four hundred and the business was over three millions of dollars. and the aggregate amount of the business trans acted would not fall much short of five millions three thousand hands, including coopers, carters and men more or less directly engaged in the making and handling the oil. This estimate does not include the large number of men en gaged in getting out and handling staves, n making and handling hoop iron, of which arin making and handling hoop iron, of which article not less than 2.250 tons were required in the manufacture of oil barrels. Some idea may thus be formed of the untitude of people, more or less, immediately concerned and benefitted by the manufacture of this important product.

"The operations of the past two years have satisfactorily demonstrated the advantages claimed for Clevaland as a manufacturing polat for petroleum, and have fully justified the sangular satisfactions of the friends of the necurrence

petrocom, and nave they pasting the sangence anticipations of the friends of this enterprise.

"During the year there were forwarded 400,000 barrels of refined oil, and 4,000 barrels of the free fourths of the renned went to Eastern ports for shipment abroad. Of the whole amount shipped, about 193,000 barrels went forward by lake, 32,000 to Buffalo and the balance to Western points and Canada."

points and Canada."
That a carnet to be a general feeling of confidence among the operators and oil dealers of Cloveland in regard to the faiture petroleum rade, and the oil business was never in a state of such healthy activity as at present, either at the point of production or the great refuncies, East and West, and the coming season promises to be an unusually profitable one to all engaged in the petroleum insiness.
